GEORGIA LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, July 17, 1872.

Pursuant to adjournment the Senate met in their Chamber at the Capitol, at 10 o'clock A. M., and was called to order by President L. N. Trammell.

Prayer by Rev. D. Wills, D. D., President of Oglethorpe University.

Hon. C. W. Styles was sworn in as Senator from the 10th District by Judge H. D. D. Twiggs, of the Middle Circuit.

Hon. W. M. Reese offered a resolution that a joint committee of five, two from the Senate and three from the House of Representatives, be appointed to wait upon his Excellency J. M. Smith, Governor, and inform him that the General Assembly was in session and ready to receive any communication he may address them. The resolution was adopted and ordered transmitted to the House.

Leave of absence for a few days was granted to Senators Bruton and Wellborn.

A message was received from the House of Representatives, announcing their concurrence in the resolution to appoint a joint committee from both Houses to wait on the Governor. The committee consists of Senators W. M. Reese and T. J. Simmons, and Representatives G. F. Pierce, R. L. McWhorter and S. W. Baker.

The committee reported through Hon W M Reese that they had discharged the duty assigned them, and that his Excellency the Governor would communicate with both branches in a few moments in writing.

J. W. Warren, Secretary of the Executive Department, presented the following message and accompanying documents from his Excellency the Governor, which, on motion of Hon. B. B Hinton, was taken up and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
ATLANTA, July 17, 1872.

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

It is made my duty by the Constitution to give to the General Assembly information of the state of the Commonwealth, and to recommend to their consideration such measures as may be deemed necessary and expedient for the public good. I approach the discharge of this duty with a feeling of diffidence, produced by a consciousness that the subjects before me will require a more extended notice than I shall be able to bestow upon them.

When I entered upon the duties of the Executive office, in January last, great confusion existed in almost every department of our public affairs. Our finances were in the utmost disorder, and the stock boards of this country and of Europe had been flooded with bonds, purporting to have been issued by this State, but yet regarded of doubtful validity. The administration of justice had been rendered ineffective by the abuse of the pardoning power; the confidence of the people in their public servants had been impaired by the faithless conduct of leading officials, and a feeling of general distrust and insecurity prevailed. The civil authorities had so long been subordinated to military power that many true men had reached the melancholy conclusion that civil liberty had already ceased to exist.

The earnest efforts of every department of the government have been directed to the correction of these abuses, and if these efforts have not yet proved entirely successful, it has been because the evils sought to be remedied were manifold and deeply rooted. Evils, the result of years of misrule, cannot be extirpated in a day. Much patient labor yet remains to be done, and in its performance I earnestly invoke the assistance of the representatives of the people.

PUBLIC DEBT AND FINANCES.

By legislative act, entitled [illegible] protect the people of the State of Georgia against the illegal and fraudulent issue of bonds and securities, and for other purposes connected with the same," passed December 9, 1871, it was provided that a joint committee of the Senate and House of Representatives should be appointed, whose duty it should be to ascertain and report the number of bonds and indorsements which had been issued and put into circulation by Rufus B. Bullock, late Governor; the aggregate amount thereof, by whom the same were sold, the amount of money paid therefor, the times when, and the persons to whom such payments were made, and all other facts connected with the history of said bonds.

The committee appointed by virtue of this act will submit their report, I learn, during the present session of the Legislature. While it is proper that I postpone any extended remarks upon the classes of claims and securities mentioned in the act, until after the information collected by the committee shall have been laid before you, yet I feel constrained to say that, in my opinion, the State is bound for the redemption of only such obligations as have been issued in conformity with law. If money raised upon unauthorized securities has come into the treasury, the State is bound to account for the same. But considerations of public policy forbid that the State should recognize as valid and binding, any contract entered into by any person not authorized to make the same. The Governor has no authority, by virtue of his office [illegible] the State. To do alone, to issue bonds [illegible] he must be specially authorized by a legislative act, passed for that purpose. When so empowered, he becomes a special agent, and cannot transcend the limits of the grant conferring his powers. It is a well established principle, that persons having dealings with public agents, in matters like this, are strictly bound to look to the authority of such agents.

The following is a consolidated statement of the existing debt of the State, created before the fourth day of July, 1868, showing the amounts and dates of the issue and maturity of the bonds:

When Issued.	When due.	Amount.
1842 and 1852	1872	$ 620,500 00
1849 and 1843	1873	137,000 00
1844 and 1848	1874	251,500 00
1858	1878	100,000 00
1859	1879	300,000 00
1860	1880	200,000 00
1861	1881	100,000 00
1866	1886	3,600,000 00
Grand		$5,238,500 00

From the foregoing tabular statement, it will appear that the total amount of our bonded debt, contracted prior to July 4, 1868, is $5,238,500 00.

To meet the bonds falling due the present summer, the Governor was authorized to issue bonds to the amount $700,000 00, due in twenty years and bearing interest at a rate not exceeding seven per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually. As required by the provisions of this act, I have caused bonds to be prepared, and the same are now being used in exchange and redemption of the old bonds falling due the present year. By the third section of the act, a temporary loan was authorized in a sum not exceeding $300,000, for the purpose of paying the semi-annual interest, due the present summer, upon the bonds of the State issued before the first day of June, 1868, which loan, it is provided, shall be paid back out of the moneys received from the taxes paid into the treasury during the year 1872.

Acting under the authority thus conferred, I borrowed from the National Bank of Commerce, in New York, the sum of $300,000 at seven per cent. per annum, to be re-paid on the first day of December next. This sum was placed to the credit of the State on the 29th day of June last, and is sufficient to pay the interest falling due upon our old debt in the months of June, July and August.

An arrangement has also been effected with the National Bank of Commerce to act as the agent of the State in exchanging the old for the new bonds falling due this year. This arrangement is as follows: An offer is made to the holders of the old bonds to exchange therefor the new seven per cent. bonds authorised to be issued by said act. In the event this offer shall not be accepted, it is proposed that the semi-annual interest shall continue to be paid upon the old bonds until the State shall be able to redeem the same. This arrangement is the best that could be effected in the present condition of the public credit, and it is believed that it will give satisfaction to our creditors. There exists no law authorizing the payment of interest upon the old bonds after their maturity, but being satisfied that the proposition to that effect, embraced in the arrangement above referred to, if carried out, will be promotive of the public welfare, I respectfully recommend that the same be approved by the Legislature.

In effecting these arrangements, I have to acknowledge the obligations under which I rest to the Hon. Charles J. Jenkins, who, while refusing all pecuniary compensation therefor as the agent of the State, brought to my aid the benefit of his well-known wisdom and experience.

By the wasteful expenditures of the late administration, the State was deprived of the means of paying the semi-annual installment of interest on the public debt, and to supply such means, it became necessary to resort to the doubtful expedient of a short loan. The necessary effect of this will be to place three semi-annual installments of interest on the public debt upon the revenues of the present year. In December next, we shall have to pay the temporary loan contracted to meet the interest falling due this summer. Then, following closely in January and February thereafter, another semi-annual installment will fall due. This we shall probably be able to meet without serious difficulty. In June, July and August of next year, however, another like installment will become due, and will be upon us before the taxes of next year can be collected. The temporary loan just negotiated should be promptly paid at maturity, and provision be made to meet future installments of interest without recourse to temporary expedients.

It is of the highest importance that the credit of the State be fully re established, to the end that the heavy burdens now resting upon the people may be removed as speedily as possible. The present impoverished condition of the country, produced by the late civil war, the disorganization of our labor system, and the wasteful extravagance which characterized the acts of those lately in authority, render the practice of the most rigid economy indispensably necessary. Our resources should be husbanded, our expenditures confined within the strictest limits of necessity, and public officials held to rigid accountability. By a wise, honest and faithful administration of the government, the public credit will soon be restored, and the people be relieved of the weight of taxation which now oppresses them.

FLOATING DEBT OF WESTERN AND ATLANTIC RAILROAD.

Your attention is also respectfully called to the propriety of making provision for the payment of the floating debt of the Western and Atlantic Railroad. The annual report of the Comptroller General, herewith transmitted, shows that there was paid out of the public treasury during the year 1871, to claims belonging to the class just named, the sum of $453,089 92. There is still a large number of such claims outstanding, a portion of which have been audited by the commissioners appointed by the Legislature, in the act approved October 24, 1870.

At the late session of the General Assembly, a committee was appointed with power to investigate the conduct of the said commissioners, and to inquire whether any claims had been allowed them after being rejected by the Legislature or by the courts, or whether any claims had been allowed which had been barred by the statute of limitations, and whether any fraudulent and illegal claims had been allowed, and upon what evidence. No warrants have been issued for the payment of these claims since my accession to office. It is a matter of doubt whether any appropriation exists for their payment, and I deemed it proper and respectful to await action on the part of the Legislature, before directing further payments to be made.

I would also call your attention to the fact, that there is outstanding a large amount of claims against the State, in the form of change bills, and notes issued by the Western and Atlantic Railroad. Most of these purport to have been issued during the late war, and others bear date as far back as the time when the road was being constructed. I have been informed that it has been held by the courts of Tennessee, that the full amount specified on the face of the change bills issued during the war, is recoverable. In view of the fact that much litigation may arise, and great expense be incurred in suits brought in the courts of Tennessee for the collection of these bills, I respectfully recommend that some provision be made whereby these evils may be avoided.

LEASE OF THE WESTERN AND ATLANTIC RAILROAD.

The attention of the Legislature has never been formally called to the lease of the Western and Atlantic Railroad, and I therefore transmit herewith copies of all the papers of record and on file in this department, referring to the same.

From these papers it will appear that on the 27th day of December, 1870, my predecessor leased the road, its rolling stock and other property, for the term of twenty years, for the sum of $25,000 per month, or $300,000 per annum. This rental has been regularly and punctually paid. The terms and conditions of the lease are fully set forth in the accompanying documents, and need not to be recapitulated here.

The circumstances attending this transaction from its inception to its consummation, have excited great interest in the public mind, and have been the subject of much diverse criticism. In consequence of this fact, the Legislature at its late session, by a joint resolution, provided for the appointment of a committee, whose duty it was made to investigate and report upon the lease. This committee I am informed, will submit their report during your present session. Any discussion of the lease therefore, at this time, and in advance of the official evidence, might justly be deemed premature.

The magnitude of the interests involved, and the concern which the transaction has excited in the public mind, render it proper that I should invoke at your hands, whenever you shall feel it to be your duty to take up this important matter for consideration, the exercise of your highest wisdom and justice. In the discussion which will doubtless arise, I feel assured that you will lose sight of neither the true interests of the people, the honor and dignity of the State, nor the rights of the lessees.

POPULAR EDUCATION.

I transmit herewith the report of the State School Commissioner upon the present condition and wants of our common school system, to which I respectfully invite your attention.

The attempt to establish the common school system in this State has not been crowned with the success which was anticipated. It is not difficult to understand the causes which have led to this result. In the impoverished condition of the people, it has been found impracticable to raise the means at once to carry into successful operation a system so expensive, without too great an increase of taxation. Even the scant means which have come into the treasury, and which by the Constitution were set apart and devoted to common school purposes, have been misapplied.

By order of the General Assembly, in the year 1870, the sum of $242,027 62, belonging to the school fund, was taken from the treasury. Soon after this was done the Legislature passed an act establishing a common school system. The grave wrong was committed of first misappropriating the school fund, and next of establishing a cumbrous and expensive system, requiring for its successful operation a heavy outlay of money. No sufficient appropriation was made for defraying the expenses of the system. The necessary consequence of this unwise procedure was that heavy debts were contracted in the employment of teachers, and for other purposes. The present General Assembly at its late session sought to correct existing evils by remodeling the whole system. The law as it now stands, although an improvement upon previous legislation, is still very defective. These defects are pointed out in the report of the Commissioner, and the necessary remedial legislation suggested. I cannot too urgently recommend that provision be at once made for paying the just claims of teachers.

When the school fund was taken from the Treasury, certain bonds of the State were deposited in lieu of the same. The Governor was authorized to sell these bonds to raise money to pay the teachers, but the power to sell was expressly made dependent upon the condition that such sale could be made without injury to the public credit. Upon inquiry made of the Treasurer, I found that the bonds bore lithographed coupons, and in his judgment were so defectively executed as to be of little or no value. As an evidence of this, it was stated that they had been offered by the late Governor, in the New York market, but a sale of them had been found impracticable, except at a ruinous sacrifice.

Being satisfied that the mere fact of these bonds, thus executed, being placed upon the market would greatly impair the credit of the State, I deemed it to be my duty to defer any attempt to sell them, and to submit the matter to the General Assembly.

AGRICULTURAL LAND SCRIP.

By an act of Congress, passed in the year 1862, donations of land were offered to the States for the purpose of establishing agricultural and mechanical colleges. The States accepting the donations were allowed until the second day of July instant, to establish the colleges. The scrip issued to the State of Georgia, under the provisions of said act of Congress, was sold by my immediate predecessor, at ninety cents per acre, making the [redacted] people, I determined that it was my duty to exercise the power conferred upon the Executive by the Legislature, and to save this important fund for our people. The question arose, how could this best be done.

In looking over the State, it was found that we had several excellent institutions of learning, and that the people in several localities desired to have the college established in their midst. This was natural and praiseworthy. But my duty was plainly pointed out by law, and beyond this, I could not go. The act of the Legislature, approved December 12, 1866, conferred upon the Governor all the power necessary to save the fund to the State. The act of Congress, however, making the donation, required that the college should be actually established by the second day of July, 1872. There was no such college in existence in this State, and I, as the chief executive officer under the government, had no authority to create such an institution. The Legislature had failed to organize a college for this purpose, or to dispose of the fund, and would not re-assemble in time to take the necessary action. What then could be done?

By the terms of its charter, the trustees of the University of the State located at Athens, and already in successful operation, possessed ample powers to establish such a college as that described in the act of Congress making the donation, and it was only by the prompt exercise of these powers by the trustees that the fund did not become forfeit. The trustees held a meeting in this city on the thirtieth day of March last, when they organized a college in conformity to the law granting the donation, made formal application for the use of the fund, and received an Executive order bestowing the same upon the University.

I herewith transmit copies of the proceedings had at said meeting of the trustees, and of the Executive order referred to.

It may be remarked that the act of Congress prescribed the conditions upon which the donation was made. One of these conditions required that the State, upon accepting the donation, should become bound to preserve the fund, and to see that no part of the same was lost or misapplied. The acceptance of the fund made the State a trustee for the uses declared in the act creating the trust. To enable the State to perform its duty and to protect the fund it was manifestly necessary that the same should be kept within the control of the Legislature. The University is a State institution, and the action of its trustees may be reviewed by the General Assembly. This is true of no other institution of learning in the State. In granting the use of the fund to the University, [illegible], I was careful to place it where the Legislature would still retain the power to interpose for its proper application and preservation. No part of the principal fund, or of the interest, could be appropriated to the purchase or erection of buildings for the college, but no delay was occasioned on this account, since there were already suitable buildings belonging to the University, which could be used for that purpose.

For these and other reasons which might be given, I deemed it to be my duty to save the donation in the only practicable way left open to me, and to grant the fund to the University of the State.

It may be added that the college went into operation on the first day of May under the most promising auspices, and that there are already about one hundred students receiving instruction in the same free of charge. The prospect is that this number will be largely increased, and that the State, so far at least as her agricultural and mechanical interests are involved, will soon enter upon a new and more prosperous career. What we most need is thorough and practical education, and this the new college promises to secure to all classes of the people—to the poor as well as to the rich and more fortunate.

PENITENTIARY.

By authority of the act approved December 14, 1871, authorizing the Governor to farm out the convicts in the Penitentiary, I proceeded, after due notice given, to lease the same for the term of two years, to Messrs. Grant, Alexander & Co., at the sum of fifty dollars per capita per annum. The number of convicts in the Penitentiary on the day the lease was executed, was 432. The number on the first of this month had increased to 475. Thirty-two have been discharged in the meantime, their terms having expired.

This marked increase in the number of convicts is not due to any augmentation of crime in the State, but is believed to be the result entirely of a more rigid and proper enforcement of the laws. This institution heretofore has been a source of expense to the State. Under the present arrangement, however, it is not probable that any appropriations will become necessary for its support and maintainance. On the contrary, it will probably be productive of considerable revenue.

PARDONING POWER.

It may be here remarked that in the present state of society, I have felt it to be my duty to confine the exercise of the pardoning power within very strict limits. Courts and juries constitute the proper tribunal for the trial of criminal offenses, and it is no part of the duty of the Executive to intervene to screen the guilty from punishment. The theory of the law upon this subject is, that when guilt has been ascertained in the manner prescribed by the supreme authority, the interest of society demands that the offender be punished. The most painful duty which devolves upon the Chief Magistrate of the Commonwealth is the refusal of appeals made to Executive clemency. Impressed as I have been, however, with the conviction that the good order, peace and welfare of society depend in a large measure upon the due enforcement of the laws, I have felt constrained to refuse to interfere with the due execution of judgments pronounced by the judicial authorities. It is believed that a strict adherence to this line of duty will result, at no distant day, in restoring to the people that feeling of security, without which society can be neither prosperous nor happy. I am glad to have it in my power to add that there has been a marked diminution of crime throughout the State, and that there is reason to believe that this diminution will become more marked in the future.

LUNATIC CONVICTS.

Your attention is respectfully called to the defects in the law as it now stands in regard to the proper disposition to be made of lunatic convicts. Under our present system, there is no provision of law specially adapted to such cases. When the convicts were confined in the State prison, under direct control of the Principal Keeper, a provision existed for the removal of lunatic convicts from the Penitentiary to the Lunatic Asylum, upon proper certificates of lunacy being made by the Physician of the Penitentiary and the Principal Keeper. At this time, however, there is no such officer as Physician of the Penitentiary, and the Principal Keeper has ceased to have peculiar custody and control of the convicts. The only evidence therefore, upon which the Superintendent of the Lunatic Asylum is authorized to receive a convict into the Asylum, cannot be supplied. The lessees are bound by their contract and by the law to treat the convicts with humanity, and to confine them securely; but there is no provision prescribing the proceedings to be had in case any of them becomes lunatic. I therefore recommend the passage of such act as will cure the evil here pointed out.

LUNATIC ASYLUM.

I herewith transmit the report of the special committee appointed to investigate the condition of the Lunatic Asylum. The investigations of the committee have been thorough, and the information which they have collected in regard to this great charity cannot fail to attract the earnest attention of the General Assembly. The number of patients now being treated in the Asylum is large, and the expenses attending the same are heavy. These unfortunates must be cared for, however, and to that end all needed reforms in the administration of the institution should be introduced, and all existing abuses corrected. The committee, whose report is now submitted, is composed of gentlemen of high character and marked abilities, and any suggestions that they should make are entitled to the most respectful consideration.

MAIMED SOLDIERS.

I respectfully ask that your attention be directed to the subject of supplying means to furnish artificial limbs to such indigent soldiers of this State as were maimed in the late war, whether in the service of the State of Georgia or of the Confederate States. The General Assembly, in 1866, made an appropriation for this purpose, but I am advised that there are still many indigent soldiers remaining, who have never been supplied with artificial limbs. The report of the Comptroller General, made in the year 1869, shows that a portion of the appropriation made in 1866 is still unexpended. As this fund cannot now be drawn from the treasury without further action by the Legislature, I respectfully recommend that an appropriation be made sufficient to meet the wants of this meritorious and unfortunate class of our fellow-citizens. These patriotic men gave their natural limbs to the service of the State, and it is but little to ask that the State should replace them with artificial limbs.

OUR DEAD SOLDIERS.

Your attention is also earnestly called to the fact that the bodies of over two thousand soldiers, who fell fighting upon our own soil, still remain uncared for on the hillsides and in the valleys, where they surrendered their lives in our defense. By appropriation heretofore made, and by private contributions of means and time, expended under the patriotic direction of the ladies composing the board of trustees of the Georgia Memorial Association, twenty-two hundred and eighty bodies have been gathered up and decently interred in the Soldiers' cemetery laid out for that purpose at Marietta. All the means on hand have long since been exhausted. Nothing further has been done within the last three years, and now even the cemetery, prepared with such pious care, has fallen into decay from lack of funds to keep it up. I respectfully inquire—how long shall this neglect be permitted to continue? Having put our hands to this good work, shall we turn back and leave it unfinished? These men died for us. Shall we not, then, at least save their bones from the plowshare, and put them tenderly away? Duty calls us, and our noble women stand ready, with tearful eyes, to perform the holy task. Our people are poor, and the State is cramped in her finances—for the stranger and the spoiler have been among us—but we are not so poor but that we can yet bury our dead.

MILITARY INTERFERENCE.

It may be that it is unnecessary to call your attention to the correspondence which was recently had by this department with the commandant of the military forces of the United States stationed at this place, in reference to the interference in our local affairs by armed Federal soldiery. The copies of letters herewith transmitted, will put you in possession of all the facts connected with this unauthorized attempt to set aside and supersede the authority of the State. It is the earnest desire of the people of Georgia to preserve good order, to put down crime in their midst, to discharge all their duties, public and private, in a peaceable manner, and to maintain between the authorities of this State and of the United States kind and pleasant relations. Such is my own fixed purpose as the Governor of the State. It is hoped, however, that we have seen the last of this kind of interference with our domestic affairs. There is neither reason for it, nor warrant of law. It is my duty, as Chief Magistrate of the Commonwealth, to uphold the laws, to maintain good order within our borders, and to protect the people in their rights of person and property. To discharge this high duty, the Legislature has clothed the Executive with ample powers. There is not likely to arise an emergency when the aid of the Federal authorities will be required, and there can never occur a case in which the voluntary and unauthorized interference of the military forces of the government can be necessary or justifiable. And so long as I hold the office with which the people have so freely honored me, I shall protest against such interference with all the earnestness of outraged justice. The people have no thought of offering any kind of resistance to the enforcement of the laws of the United States, but they do protest, and will continue to protest, against all illegal and unauthorized attempts to trample under foot the great right of local self-government, whether such attempts be made by the military forces or by the Judiciary of the Federal Government.

ON TO MILLEDGEVILLE!

Mr. Spencer of Coffee, offered a resolution providing for removing the General Assembly to Milledgeville on Monday next, because, the resolution alleged, the Hall was uncomfortably warm and therefore dangerous to the health of the members and otherwise unsafe.

Mr. Pierce, of Hancock, moved the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Phillips, of Echols, moved that the resolution be made the special order of the day for to-day two weeks, which motion was lost.

The question was then on the original resolution.

Mr. Hoge, of Fulton, made a few remarks stating that if the resolution was intended as a joke, it was an expensive one to the State, and if it was serious it failed to constitutionally provide for such a removal, and that the exigency was not sufficient.

Mr. Pou, of Muscogee, stated that he believed the gentleman from Fulton was misinformed if he supposed the resolution was serious, deprecated the loss of time, and moved that the resolution be laid on the table, which motion was carried with but one or two dissenting voices.

Leaves of absence were granted to Messrs. Ballenger of Floyd, Kelly of Chatham, Colby of Greene, Bruton and Williams of Decatur.

The House adjourned till 9 A. M. to-morrow.

TO LAWYERS.—A full report of the decisions of the Supreme Court is furnished to THE CONSTITUTION exclusively, by the Reporter of the Court.

Call for State Democratic Convention

ATLANTA, GA., June 26, 1872.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the State, held this day, it was resolved, that a Convention of the Democratic party be held in the city of Atlanta, on Wednesday, the 24th day of July next, at 12 o'clock M., in the Capitol building, in Atlanta, for the purpose of nominating an Electoral Ticket, and a candidate for Governor. Counties will be entitled to the usual representation.

JULIAN HARTRIDGE, Chairman.

☞ The article of our esteemed correspondent, "A. T. S.," is on file for our next issue. Press of matter prevented its appearance this morning.

Kimball.

We heard in Baltimore that H. I. Kimball, with characteristic enterprise, is running a needle factory in Switzerland, and making lots of money.

Georgia Crops.

The Georgia crop news is generally cheering. Corn and cotton are both growing finely. In some localities there has been too much rain, causing rust and caterpillars.

The Crops Between here and Baltimore.

The writer was struck with the splendid condition of the crops between here and Baltimore. The Tennessee corn was magnificent. Everything gave promise of a glorious harvest.

Bullock.

We heard of some characteristic Radical jocularity of Bullock the other day. These Radicals are wonderful jokers where honor is concerned.

He sent word to Colonel Cumming, who was sent by Governor Smith to arrest him, that he received his invitation to meet him, but as he at the same time received the invitation of Colonel Simmons, of the Bond Committee, he could not visit both, and rather than offend one by accepting the other's invitation, he determined to do the kind thing, and see neither.

The Baltimore Trip.

A trip North over the Lynchburg route is a positive pleasure. It is the shortest line. It has admirable accommodations. It goes through a beautiful country, picturesque and salubrious. The scenery is exquisite. The air comes over the smiling valleys and green mountains coolingly. Leaving here at five in the afternoon, and taking a good supper at Mrs. Johnson's, in Kingston, the traveler gets a sleeping car at Dalton, and a good night's sleep. The road from Bristol to Lynchburg used to be the worst in the country, and now there is no better, thanks to the genius of Gen. Malone, who has made a speciality of perfecting it. The arrival at Baltimore is at half-past nine on the second morning.

The Negroes Breaking Ranks for Greeley.

One of the most hopeful signs of the times is the fact that the negroes are coming out for Greeley. Daily we see in our exchanges that prominent leaders among them are coming out for Greeley. A noted case is that of W. A. Saunders, one of the colored Maryland Grant electors, who repudiates the Grant ticket, and in an exceedingly able letter takes ground for Greeley. He does this, he says, under a sense of duty to his race. He says that the consolidated negro support of the Republican party has been natural in the past. But now it is their duty to go with the party that promises peace and prosperity to the whole country.

"In the coming Presidential campaign it is of the first importance that colored men cast off their fetters of political vassalage, ignore the tyranny of a false and vicious party discipline, and, like all other men, exercise their political franchise according to the dictates of enlightened and untrammelled judgment.

"Even were it possible for me to remain on your ticket, I could not approve and abet the bitter and continued factional warfare for which the Grant party in Maryland is remarkable, and which is a dominant characteristic of that party in every State in the Union."

He further adds this wise remark:

"That the exercise of the rights and the employment of the privileges of citizenship by the colored people of the country depends not upon the success of a political party, which is oftener factional or sectional than national, but upon the better sentiment, broad charity, and advanced civilization of the American people as a nation."

The Governor's Message.

In our evening editon will be found Gov. Smith's message. It is a document of power and ability. It fully illustrates the sterling statesmanship of the writer.

As our readers have the paper for perusal, we omit any extended notice of its contents. Its statements are correct and its recommendations sound. We very heartily commend it.

We call attention to the gratifying fact that Gov. Smith's refusal to interfere with the judgments of the criminal courts has diminished crime markedly. In no one thing was Bullock's rule more injurious to the State than in its encouragement of criminals through the abuse of the pardoning power.

In regard to our finances, Governor Smith has pursued a safe course. He is for executing the law as to the illegal securities of his predecessor.

We can do what Governor Smith has not done in his message—point to the splendid results of his able and honest administration in the bettered condition of the State in every respect. The bold Governor Smith has taken upon the people by his excellent rule is shown in the singular unanimity with which the people of the counties are recommending him for re-election. With one or two exceptions the Democracy of every county that has spoken has complimented his administration and urged his renomination on the 24th.

He deserves and is receiving the plaudit from the people of "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

The True Spirit of Patriotism.

We have seen nothing to please us more than an editorial in the Louisville Ledger stating its position. This journal has been the most resolute anti-Greeley paper in Kentucky. It has opposed Greeley's support by the Democracy with an ardor that has never abated. It now sets an example that is, in our judgment, a noble one. It gives in its adhesion to the movement, and its reasons have an application wherever there is a Democratic heart to be touched.

It opens by thus stating the situation and its own relation thereto:

"The work of the Baltimore Convention is before the country. The die is cast, and no remedy can now be applied to any mistakes there made. For the present campaign, at least, the attitude of the Democratic party is fixed. That the result is not in accordance with our judgment is well understood.

"However, it is useless to discuss these things now. We feel a consciousness of having discharged our whole duty, and if disaster come, we shall be free from responsibility. We have nothing to retract or modify."

The Ledger amplifies this to some extent, and then announces its resolution in the following admirable paragraphs. The words, "no man shall say we stood in the way of success," embody the whole duty of the hour, and should be engraven on every Democratic heart:

And, having done our best to secure the adoption of that policy which to our mind gave greater promise of victory, we shall now do what we can to achieve the end upon the plan laid down by those upon whom the responsibility was laid. No man shall say that we stood in the way of success. We cannot defend the record of Mr. Greeley. That will hardly be expected of us. Neither can we indorse the platform upon which he stands

In spite of the record of the candidate and the platform upon which he has been placed we shall support the ticket as the best that can be done under the circumstances. We should be unreasonable and factious to do otherwise.

The Ledger, after some complimentary words about Gratz Brown for his fine course, in Missouri, winds up with this entreaty to the Democrats who were with it in resisting Greeley's nomination, to now rally to the party and work like men to carry out its settled programme. We commend these golden words to our Democratic brethren as embodying duty, and as having the more force because they emanate from a source so thoroughly anti-Greeley.

"To the many thousands of Democrats who have stood with us in attempting to resist the current of events for the past few months, we have to say that the full measure of our duty has been met. A large majority of our associates have chosen to pursue a course different from that dictated by our judgment. Though not by any means convinced of our error, we must lay claim to infallibility. We cannot doubt that other Democrats are as honest and patriotic as we, and have the same means of arriving at correct conclusions. Let us then defer our personal convictions to the voice of the majority, so far, at any rate, as to concentrate every effort to insure a triumph. It is now settled beyond a peradventure that Greeley and Brown or Grant and Wilson must be elected, if they shall all live till November. Between these tickets conservative men cannot hesitate to choose the former. Never mind records; give no heed to platforms; but bend every energy to bring the masses to the polls. Let the canvass be an aggressive one. The Grant administration and the Radical factions represented by the "man on horseback" present ample field for criticism and discussion. Let this field be occupied to the exclusion of all other matters. When Greeley's record is held up point to the Democratic hook in his nose, and charge upon the enemy. The people of the South appeal for relief, and assure us that if it be not afforded at once they are utterly ruined; that four years more of carpet-bag and scalawag rule, sustained by Federal bayonets, will hopelessly bankrupt that entire section, and turn the country over to the permanent domination of the negroes. They have with singular unanimity selected Horace Greeley as their Moses. He is unquestionably the candidate for the South. Though we may have fears that they have again mistaken the remedy for the evils they justly complain of, still, as no other is attainable, we must spare no effort to make the application. They say Greeley proved himself so great a success in giving freedom to the negroes that they want him to undertake the emancipation of the white race. Under the peculiar circumstances of the case Greeley, if elected, cannot fail to keep faith with that people. Then let the watchword be, "To the rescue;" and with locked shields and bayonets fixed let us charge along the whole line."

To the Public.

ATLANTA, GA., July 17, 1872.

Editors Constitution: As General Toombs has thought proper to appear again in print before the public, while a personal issue was pending between him and me, I have a very simple reply for him. In his card dated the 11*th* instant, and published on the 16*th* he refers to me as resorting to the usual dodge of a vulgar poltroon.

This man, having been branded by me as an unscrupulous liar, fancied, perhaps, that he had sufficient courage to defend his personal honor, or perhaps he thought he could safely play the role of a bully. Accepting, therefore, the position of the injured party, and feeling no little concern about my church relations, he sent a friend to me to inquire if I held myself amenable to the code of honor. I replied as follows:

Col. J. C. Nicholls entered my office, on the morning of the 9th instant, and said, "I desire to see you a moment privately," when the following conversation occurred:

Nicholls—"I have come in behalf of Gen. Toombs to make an inquiry of you."

Brown—"Well, sir, I will hear you."

Nicholls—"On account of your church relations, Gen. Toombs does not know whether you hold yourself amenable to the code, and while I admit this is an irregular proceeding in behalf of Gen. Toombs, I make the inquiry."

Brown—"It seems to me, this course is extraordinary. Gen. Toombs has nothing to do with my church relations. If he desires to send me a communication, I am ready to receive it at any moment. I have conferred with a friend who does not reside in Atlanta, but I will telegraph him at once, and respond to a communication, if made, after referring it to him, without unreasonable delay. Are you Gen. Toombs' friend in this matter?"

Nicholls—"I am not, in that sense. I expect to have nothing whatever to do with the matter. I only come to make this inquiry, at Gen. Toombs' suggestion. He may desire a little time, as he will have to get a friend who resides out of the State, for he does not wish to complicate his friends in the State."

Brown—"I shall not trouble persons out of the State. I have a friend in the State who will serve me."

Nicholls—"I would like to know whether you hold yourself bound by the Code?"

Brown—"Say to General Toombs distinctly that I am ready to receive any communication that he desires to send, and if I don't respond properly, he knows his remedy."

Nicholls—"What I have done in this instance is simply an act of friendship to Gen. Toombs, because he requested it. I expect to take no part in any unpleasant affair between you and him."

Brown—"Say to Gen. Toombs I hold myself ready to give him any satisfaction which I be may due him, or to which he is entitled as a gentleman."

This language is in General Toombs' possession in writing, over my own signature. To be certain that he received it as uttered, it was sent to him, on the 10th, after he left Atlanta, by the first express to his home at Washington.

This code-of-honor gentleman left Atlanta the day after this language was uttered. He responds in the newspapers. I leave the public to judge who is the poltroon, and whether General Toombs preferred newspaper artillery to heavier metal.

Smith has administered the affairs of our State government during his short but highly responsible term of office, have fully vindicated the wisdom of the people's choice, and whilst we disapprove of the practice—often so embarrassing to delegates—of sending them with specific instructions to cast their votes for a particular candidate, we do most cordially recommend Governor Smith to our delegates and to the people of Georgia for renomination and re-election.

Resolved, That J. C. Bower, F. Chambers, John Gardiner, G. E. Carleton, A. Pennington and J. N. Shinholsor be, and they are hereby appointed delegates to the State Convention to assemble in Atlanta on the 24th instant for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor and an electoral ticket for President and Vice President.

Col. H. P. Bell for Governor.

NEWNAN, GA., July 16, 1872.

Editors Constitution: In this and other sections of the State a decided wish has been expressed that Colonel H. P. Bell, of Cumming, should be nominated for Governor. He lives in a section of the State whose claims to the office ought to be considered. His war and Congressional records are faultless. He embodies that "wisdom, justice and moderation" which Georgia needs during the next Gubernatorial term. His enlarged public usefulness, his thorough business capacity and statesmanship commend him to our preference among the distinguished names that have been suggested in connection with the important trust.

BOWDON COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT.

Fourth and Last Day's Proceedings--The Senior Class--Degrees Conferred--Address of Richard S. Jefferies, Esq.--Award of Prizes--Memorial Ceremonies.

BOWDON, July 10, 1872.

The important character of the exercises of this day was evidenced in the great number of visitors present. No seat, and scarcely standing place, could be obtained in the College Hall at an early hour, while the space around the door and the surrounding grounds, were occupied by at least eight hundred persons. A portion, and perhaps the greater portion, of this vast assembly were drawn hither in token of respect to the memory of Charles A. McDaniel, Colonel Forty-first Georgia Regiment, whose remains were now to be reinterred with solemn ceremonies.

The exercises of the morning were introduced by the speeches of the Seniors, of which the following is a programme:

SENIOR ORATIONS.

H. M. Newton, H. C. S., Bowdon, Ga.—Progress.

J. L. Mitchell, (C. S. Orator) Bowdon, Ga.—Pleasures of Intellectual Culture.

R. L. Whaley, (H. C. S. Orator) Sparta, Ga.—Ideal Presence.

H. M. Evans, H. C. S., (excused) Bowdon, Georgia.

J. D. Moore, H. C. S., (excused) Newnan, Georgia.

These speeches were all exceedingly good. Mr. Newton thinks clearly and accurately, and in a style of diction and delivery in which we find nothing to censure. The range of his subject was somewhat wide, but he managed it with ability. The second speaker, Mr. Mitchell, has an agreeable voice, somewhat high in tone, and a rapid, vehement utterance. His speech was full of fire and energy. Mr. Whaley invested his difficult subject, "Ideal Presence," with a glow of fine imagery and illustration, happily received by the audience. His manner is graceful, his articulation clear and full.

These youthful orators each exhibited a degree of careful training highly complimentary to President Henderson and his efficient corps of teachers. Bowdon may well feel proud of her Institution. The programme above finished, degrees were conferred upon the gentlemen named therein, by Professor Henderson who then read from a record the roll of distinction, exhibiting their standing in the several branches, who had obtained in the graduation above 90, the highest mark being one hundred. The names of a great number were found in the roll of honor.

Prof. Henderson explained that it had been determined to combine the annual address, the address to the prize declaimers and award of prizes, in a single oration, this task being assigned to Mr. Jefferies, and concluded by introducing to the audience

RICHARD S. JEFFERIES, ESQ.

In a manner easy and unembarrassed, Mr. Jefferies commenced, and for somewhat above an hour continued, an address which will be long remembered by those who heard him. Using as his subject, "Footsteps of Mental Progression," he evolved a train of consecutive, well connected thought, and glowing, brilliant imagery, which it would be difficult to surpass. He reviewed the march of the Roman and Grecian classics, the footprints of English thought, at successive periods, and the achievements of literature and science in our own country, exhibiting their combined influence on the mind of the present day with a force and truthfulness most fitting to his subject and creditable to his culture. His tribute to Newton and Morse, to Berrien and Lumpkin, produced a lively impression. His remarks upon the triumphs of Philology were rendered in a style lofty, animated and impressive. The audience paid him profound attention, and gave him every exhibition of their cordial approbation of his effort. We learn that Mr. Jefferies is a young man of determined energy, and we predict for him in his profession a bright future.

In the afternoon at the hour of three o'clock the remains of Col. Charles A. McDaniel, under a special escort from Newnan, arrived at the incorporation line of Bowdon, where they were formally turned over to the Alumni of Bowdon College. They were conveyed thence, attended by a solemn procession of friends, relatives, faculty and trustees of Bowdon College, Alumni, survivors of his old regiment, Masons, etc., to the College Hall, where the commemorative of the virtues of the deceased were delivered. In simple, earnest and touching words Col. Lester begun by painting a short sketch of the boyhood and early manhood of Col. McDaniel. Passing from this period, he entered upon a description of the qualities and accomplishments of this pure man and patriot-martyr as they were revealed in his character as a soldier. His address he divided into four parts, discussing first his piety, second his devotion to duty, third his truthfulness to self, fourth his patriotism, and these heads beautifully elaborated, closing each with an exhortation to the youth present to emulate the virtues of the great dead. Col. Lester's address was a most eloquent, and at the same time, a simple, subdued tribute to an honorable, brave man, who fell fighting at the battle of Perryville, Kentucky, for Southern freedom. As such, it was received, so that scarce an eye was left dry, or heart unmoved in the vast audience.

The address ended, the remains of Colonel McD. were conveyed to the churchyard near by, and there re-interred with Masonic honors.

The customary entertainment given by the students annually on commencement evenings in the chapel, closed the commencement exercises of Bowdon College for the year 1872, an occasion which has given the fullest satisfaction to all who witnessed its excellencies, and an occasion which promises much to this worthy institution. * * *

The Liberal Platform.

The following are the resolutions in full adopted by the Liberal Republican National Convention at Cincinnati in May, and endorsed by the Democratic Convention in July:

We, the Liberal Republicans of the United States, in National Convention assembled at Cincinnati, proclaim the following principles as essential to a just government.

First—We recognize the equality of all men before the law, and hold that it is the duty of the government, in its dealings with the people, to mete out equal and exact justice to all; of whatever nativity, race color, persuasion, religious or political.

Second—We pledge ourselves to maintain the union of these States, emancipation and enfranchisement, and to oppose any reopening of the questions settled by the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments of the Constitution.

Third—We demand the immediate and absolute removal of all disabilities imposed on account of the rebellion, which was finally subdued seven years ago, believing that universal amnesty will result in the complete pacification of all sections of the country.

Fourth—Local self-government, with impartial suffrage, will guard the rights of all citizens more securely than any centralized power. The public welfare requires the supremacy of the civil over the military authority, and the freedom of person under the protection of the habeas corpus. We demand for the individual the largest liberty consistent with public order, for the States self-government, and for the nation a return to the methods of peace and the constitutional limitations of power.

Fifth—The civil service of the government has become a mere instrument of partisan tyranny and personal ambition, and an object of selfish greed. It is a scandal and reproach upon our free institutions, and breeds a demoralization dangerous to the perpetuity of republican government. We, therefore, regard a thorough reform of the civil service as one of the most pressing necessities of the hour; that honesty, capacity and fidelity constitute the only valid claims to public employment; that the offices of the government cease to be a matter of arbitrary favoritism and patronage, and that public stations become again posts of honor. To this end it is imperatively required that no President shall be a candidate for re-election.

Sixth—We demand a system of Federal taxation which shall not necessarily interfere with the industry of the people, and which shall provide means necessary to pay the expenses of the government, economically administered, pensions, the interest on the public debt, and a moderate reduction, annually, of the principal thereof, and recognizing that there are in our midst honest but irreconcilable differences of opinion with regard to the respective systems of protection and free trade, we remit discussion of the subject to the people in their Congressional districts, and to the decision of Congress thereon, wholly free of Executive influence or dictation.

Seventh—The public credit, must be sacredly maintained, and we denounce repudiation in every form and guise.

Eighth—A speedy return to specie payments is demanded alike by the highest considerations of commercial morality and honest government.

Ninth—We remember with gratitude the heroism and sacrifice of the soldiers and sailors of the republic, and no act of ours shall ever detract from their justly earned fame or the full reward of their patriotism.

Tenth—We are opposed to all further grants of lands to railroads or other corporations. The public domain should be held sacred to actual settlers.

Eleventh—We hold that it is the duty of the government, in its intercourse with foreign nations, to cultivate the friendship of peace by treating with all on fair and equal terms, regarding it alike dishonorable either to demand what is not right or to submit to what is wrong.

Twelfth—For the promotion and success of these vital principles, and the support of the candidates nominated by this convention, we invite and cordially welcome the cooperation of all patriotic citizens, without regard to previous political affiliation.

Campaign Notes.

The carpet-baggers of North Carolina increased the State debt from $14,000,000 to $38,000,000.

The Liberal Republicans and Democrats had a joint ratification meeting at Lawrenceburg, Ind., on the 13th.

Senator Schurz will make his first campaign speech in St. Louis. He will afterwards speak in North Carolina.

A letter has been addressed to Mr. Sumner, signed by 100 colored men, referring to the political situation, and asking his advice to the colored people.

The Watchman and Reflector, a leading Baptist weekly, thinks it a noteworthy fact that up to this time no one, friend or enemy, has accused Greeley of dishonesty or immorality of any kind.

LONDON, ENG., July 17.—Mail advices from Alexandria, Egypt, to Friday last, give detailed accounts of the affray between Consul General Butler and the Khedives' American officers. Butler, his Secretary (Wadleigh,) and an attachee of the consolate named Straloga, were dining at the Greek restaurant, where were also Generals Loring, Reynolds, and Major Campbell. As they were leaving the restaurant, Loring and Reynolds saluted Butler, but Campbell passed on without recognizing him. Butler shouted good evening. Major Campbell retraced a few steps High words and blows ensued. The whole party went into the street, where Wadleigh fired several shots at Campbell, wounding him dangerously. Reynolds then fired at Wadleigh without effect.

The difficulty is reported to have grown out of a long standing enmity between Butler and Campbell.

The Alexandria Military Commission to inquire into the recent fracas is still in session. It is composed of General Stone, Colonel Purdy and several native officers of the Egyptian army.

Butler's departure is confirmed. His destination is not certainly known, but it is reported that he left with the intention of returning to the United States.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

RICHMOND, VA., July 17.—Ex-Governor Henry A. Wise, in a letter declining an invitation to a Grant and Wilson ratification meeting at Alexandria, says it is entirely unfit for me to act with any political party at the present time and in the present attitude of affairs. This I have said; that I cannot and will not act or vote with the so-called Liberal Republicans. They are too liberal. They are so loose as to have no principles, and adopt the worst as well the best, to suit. Birds of every feather meet together at both Cincinnati and Baltimore. They have in strange confusion mingled white spirits and gray; so the party is the worst of mongrels, and all things to all men.

To you I have a patriotic word to say. Excel the Liberal Republicans, be just and true Republicans to yourselves and to all men, the time has come for General Grant to let us have peace, verb sat." A conference of several prominent straight-out Democrats was held to-day with the alleged purpose of forming a coalition against Greeley and to stump the State for Grant.

Boggus no election has been held in the district, but that Gov Bullock appointed a successor. R. A. Johnson is announced in another column as a candidate for the office.

BUFFALO MEAT.—There is no necessity to go West for buffalo meat when you can get it in Atlanta. Parties wishing to obtain this delicacy can be supplied by leaving orders at Sparks & Tye's. Messrs. John L. Chapman and R. W. Moffatt have just returned from Colorado and Kansas with eleven thousand pounds, sugar cured buffalo meat.

JOHN KEELY is selling off his stock of summer goods very rapidly, his store being thronged with customers daily. His dress goods, parasols, fine white piques, marseilles quilts, table linens and cassimeres, and linen pants goods, are sure to please—they being now offered at greatly reduced prices.

BROTHERTON.—Who does not know Brotherton? Not to know him is to argue yourself unknown. He is popular with all classes, and a special favorite with the ladies. He has made Brotherton's corner famous for good bargains, and good goods. His store is ever thronged with purchasers. His polite and affable clerks are kept busy waiting on customers. If you want goods of any kind call on Brotherton.

CABINET ORGANS.—We take pleasure in calling attention to the advertisement of the Improved Cabinet Organs, manufactured by the Simmons & Clough Organ Co., of Detroit, Michigan. These Organs, pre-eminent for purity of tone, are warranted. They are supplied with Scribner's patent qualifying tubes, by means of which the quantity or volume of tone is very largely increased, and the quality of tone rendered equal to that of the best pipe organs of the same capacity. They have thirty-five different styles for the parlor and the church. We learn that the Stone Mountain Sunday School have purchased one of the $200 organs.

ANOTHER REMARKABLE MAN.—DeKalb furnishes a remarkable man. He is sixty-one years of age, and has been living on the same place for forty-six years. He has never been drunk; never swore an oath; never used tobacco; never been sued; has not bought a bushel of corn in forty years, nor a pound of meat in that time, except two years when the cholera killed his hogs. He has been a candidate twelve times, and never defeated but once. He is an elder in the Presbyterian church and a Democrat. His name is Daniel Johnson, and he lives four miles from Atlanta and four miles from Decatur.

CHOICE RESIDENCE LOT FOR SALE.—Col L. P. Grant offers for sale a superior residence and lot, corner of Washington and Jones streets, being the one recently occupied by Judge J. I. Whitaker. The residence contains six rooms, conveniently arranged with ample closets. The lot contains outhouses, stables, etc., and fronts 115 feet on Washington street and 210 feet on Jones street. In point of elevation, beauty of surroundings, good neighborhood, society and proximity to the business portions of the city, it is unsurpassed. Parties wishing a HOME should apply at once.

CITY COURT.—Yesterday Henry Mathews (colored) was found guilty of larceny and sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or work on the public works for twelve months.

Jane Woods (colored) was found guilty of larceny and sentenced to pay a fine of $5 or work on the public works two months.

Armisted Mell (colored) was found guilty of carrying concealed weapons and sentenced to pay a fine of $25.

The court adjourned until the 12th of August.

THE AIR-LINE SHOPS AND THEIR LOCATION.—We notice in the proceedings of Council of last Friday, that T. S. Garner asked for a loan of fifty thousand dollars to be invested in the erection of Car Shops and Machinery at this place. We think this a step in the right direction, and will prove to be a source of revenue to the city, and will be an important step towards inducing the Air-Line Railroad Company to locate their Machine Shops at this place.

Now, if the city can secure the location of the shops here by granting this, or even donating that amount, would it not be good financial policy to do so? It is generally understood that the company intend investing a large amount in shops and machinery, and as their road is a long one, they will necessarily have to employ many hands, and these employees all have to eat, and wear, and live in houses, and mechanics are, as a general rule, prompt paying customers and liberal paying tenants, and are generally an accumulative people. Why not encourage such enterprise when there is nothing to be lost but all gain?

Manufacturing is what we should encourage, and a car factory is probably one of the best factories that could be located here as five railroads already center here, and the Georgia Western now in rapid course of construction, will need many cars. They ought to be built in an Atlanta factory, and all that the Atlanta roads need ought to be built here. Our City Fathers must see that they are right, and then go ahead in this matter, or in something which will make a start towards building the large number of cars required by the railroads here, thus increasing the population and wealth of the city at a cost which is comparatively nothing. PROGRESS.

THE SENATE YESTERDAY.—It was pleasant yesterday for this reporter to meet with old and familiar faces in the Senate Chamber. Senator Reese shews great activity and becoming zeal in legislating for the public good. Senator He... introduced a very important bill. It provides for holding the election for Governor and members of the Legislature on the first Wednesday in October; the election for President and members of Congress the first Tuesday in November; and for counting the votes on the first Wednesday in January.

Senator Hillyer offered a bill to amend the charter of Atlanta so as to allow the ... Deputy Marshal to levy and sell property for taxes, and one to incorporate the City Bank of Atlanta, of which W. L. Hubbard, W. Jennings and T. G. ...ly are corporators.

Judge Reese offered a very important bill to extend the law of conspiracy, so as to include public officials who conspire to rob the State or combine to get a measure through the Legislature by fraud by which the State is wronged.

The Senate is a working body, and will delay no time in fulfilling their obligations to their constituency.

MADAME ROCH.—We call especial attention to the card of this lady proposing to teach music, French, German and Italian. Her references are to Dr. Bozeman and Prof. Isham, two of our prominent citizens. The following letter is a powerful indorsement:

PARIS, April 25, 1868

To any of my friends in United States:

It gives me the greatest pleasure to commend to your kind notice and patronage Madame Adele Roch, of Geneva, Switzerland, an accomplished teacher in the French, German, Italian languages, as well as English. Madame Roch is also a perfect teacher of music.

In thus commending Madame Roch, who, in all all other respects, is worthy of confidence for Christian character, manners and faithful devotion to her pupils I speak not from hearsay, but from experience in the results of a year's tuition of two of my children.

I can with confidence say that they who are so fortunate as to procure services of Madame Roch will find that my commendation is not exaggerated.

SAM. F. B. MORSE.

FLOATINGS.—...ion Dozier has taken charge of the tobacco and cigar stand at the Girl of the Period Saloon, Marietta street. Boys of the Period, make a note of it!

Judge Hammond, chairman of the Police Committee, enters the new Police Station House to-day. Every policeman, besides having a club, will have his hammock.

Caressa is a pla[i]r feminine name with newly married couples in Atlanta. Several girls were named this sixteen years ago, and now the boys are fond of it.

There is a great cry for boarding houses in Atlanta. A city of the size of Atlanta ought to be better supplied.

"Colquitt" mules are the latest novelty.

THE reporter of the Sun who noticed the party that went to Colonel Wallace's orchard must have been in an oblivious condition, as he forgot a number who were present.

Democratic Meeting in DeKalb.

A meeting of the Democratic party of DeKalb county is called to meet in Decatur on Saturday the 20th instant, at 12 M., for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Democratic Convention assembling in Atlanta on the 24th instant to nominate a candidate for Governor and an electoral ticket. A full attendance is desired, especially of the Executive Comittee.

THE INDEPENDENT FARMER.

Let sailors sing of the windy deep,
Let soldiers praise their armor;
But in my heart this toast I'll keep—
"The independent farmer."

When first the rose in robe of green
Unfolds its crimson lining,
And round his cottage home is seen
The honeysuckle twining;

When banks of bloom their sweetness yield
To bees that gather honey—
He drives his team across the field,
When skies are soft and sunny.

The blackbird clucks behind the plow,
The quail pipes loud and clearly,
Yon orchard hides behind the bough
The home he loves so dearly.

The gray old barn doors unfold
His ample store in measure;
More rich than heaps of hoarded gold;
A precious, blessed treasure.

While yonder in the porch there stands
His wife, the fair love-charmer;
The sweetest rose on all the lands
Of the independent farmer.

To him the spring come dancingly,
To him the summer blushes,
The autumn smiles with yellow ray,
His sleep old winter hushes.

He cares not how the world may move,
No doubts nor fears confound him—
His little flock is linked in love,
And household angels round him.

He trusts to God, and loves his wife,
Nor griefs nor ills may harm her;
He's nature's nobleman in life—
The independent farmer.

Resolutions were adopted protesting against the action of the Italian government towards the Papal authorities and condemning the recent law passed by the German Parliament prosecuting the Jesuits.

The Times, this morning, commenting on the issue of the trial of Edward S. Stokes, says: "At the bottom of what we call this miscarriage of justice is that indifference the Americans feel for violent crimes in which both murderers and victims are rowdies."

GEORGIA, Fulton County.

To the Superior Court of said county:

YOUR petitioner, Paul Jones, Senior, showeth that in due course of trade and for a valuable consideration, on the 19th day of December, 1871, by purchase from Jesse C. Kyle, he acquired title to a promissory note (here to the Court shown) for the sum of Eight Thousand Dollars, made by Amy H Sells, W A S Rondeau and P H Snook, payable to said Kyle, or bearer, dated February 18th, 1871, and due on or before the first day of January, 1872; and that at the same time he, by assignment from the said Kyle, acquired title to a mortgage deed, (here also to the Court shown) executed by said Amy H. Sells to said Kyle and his assigns, to secure the payment of said note, and bearing even date therewith; which mortgage deed covers and embraces all that tract or parcel of land situate, lying and being in the city of Atlanta, and being part of A J Orme's subdivision of block number one hundred and forty-six, in original lot number fifty-one, in the fourteenth district of originally Henry now Fulton county—said portion fronting north on East Harris street, one hundred and eighty-three feet and running back on Butler street two hundred and two feet, with all the rights, members and appurtenances to the said premises in anywise belonging.

Your petitioner avers that the condition of said mortgage deed is broken, that said note is wholly unpaid, and that the amount due thereon is eight thousand dollars, principal, besides lawful interest from maturity. He therefore prays that said mortgage may be foreclosed, and that the usual rule to that end be granted and served according to law.

L. E. BLECKLEY,
June 7, 1872. Petitioner's Attorney.

On filing the foregoing petition, it is ordered by the court that the said mortgagor, Amy H. Sells, pay into court on or before the first day of the next term, to-wit, the second Monday in October next, the principal, interest and cost, or show cause why the equity of redemption in and to the said mortgaged premises should not be forever barred and foreclosed; and that this rule be served as prescribed by law.

The Star

Will be conducted, as heretofore, on an Independent Schedule, without being influenced by "fear, favor or affection." In politics we shall, as formerly, co-operate with the Democratic party, at the same time using every diligence to conciliate the Liberal Republican Movement, believing, as we do, that in the combination and consolidation of the Democrats and Liberals, lies the only political hope of the country, to be rescued from Military Tyranny and Radical Domination.

To our friends we appeal to assist us in thus extending our circulation, and point with pride to Our Record for the past seven years as a consistent, independent and newsy journal. While we have made a few mistakes, yet our old files show, and experience has vindicated the fact that we have most always BEEN RIGHT in our political opinions and suggestions relative to the various important public questions that have come up since the war, upon which the South has been called to think or act. We can only add that we shall continue on the same schedule, relaxing no effort to give the latest, most reliable and fullest news obtainable, not only upon political affairs, but all matters of public interest.

Very respectfully PUBLISHERS STAR.

BROWN'S HOTEL,

MACON, GEORGIA.

BY long experience and a thorough knowledge of the business in all its diversified branches are essential to the keeping that which the public has long heard of but seldom seen,

A GOOD HOTEL,

The undersigned flatter themselves that they are fully competent to discharge their obligation to their patrons. But they are not only experienced in hotel keeping—they modestly would claim to have

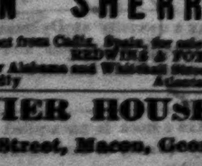

THE BEST ARRANGED AND MOST COMPLETELY AND EXPENSIVELY FURNISHED

House throughout, in the State, which is located exactly where everybody would have it situated, immediately in Front and Adjacent to the Passenger Depot, where travelers can enjoy the most sleep and less liabilities to be left by the perplexingly constant departure of the trains.

To all these important advantages is added a table that is well supplied with the best and choicest dishes the city and country can afford; nor would they omit to mention that their servants, trained to the business, have never been surpassed for politeness and attention to guests.

For the truth of these statements, we refer the public to our patrons who reside in every State in the Union. E. E. BROWN & SON,
